

Paws to the Polls Nonpartisan Voter Education Initiative

(est. Feb 2020)

Report 2020 - 2023

Missouri State
UNIVERSITY

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Rationale

Paws to the Polls formed in response to low college-age national voting rates: for example, 48% in the 2016 presidential election (50% at MSU) and 40% in the 2018 midterm election (36% at MSU), low voting rates in local elections, lack of student access to education about the voting process and non-partisan political sources (see our data at right), and feeling disengaged, intimidated, or anxious about the process.

The Solution & Our Goals

We set out to investigate and overcome barriers (perceived or actual) to voting in order to raise voting knowledge and rates at Missouri State University.

The Approach

Grounded in anthropological techniques (mainly participant observation), the founding student team steered the direction of this grassroots initiative using innovative ideas to energize and engage fellow students. The curricular approach is one of self-discovery, using various forms of media to encourage civic engagement; our activities and incentives (prizes, food, fun) help draw students in to for us to engage with them.

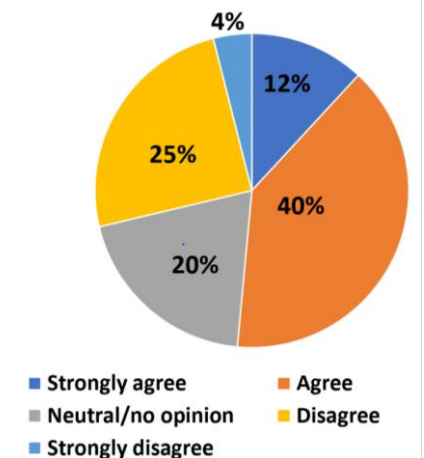

The Scope

Our actions in the realms of education, outreach, and voter support are strictly nonpartisan; the curriculum, voter information booklets, self-produced voting videos, and presentations focus on why and how to engage with the process. Our voter support and advocacy actions involve knowledge about elections, voting-related legislation, legislator interactions, and liaising with the county clerk. Our campus and community partnerships are rewarding, beneficial, and expanding.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Impact (since Paws to the Polls' establishment, 2020)

Education

- Approximately 640 students have completed the voter education curriculum; by doing so, the scoring of voting as “very important” increases by 20% (see page 13)
- Over 9000 Voter Information Booklets have been distributed

Outreach

- Approximately 4600 students have been reached via classroom presentations
- Over 150 students have been reached via presentations to residence halls, student organizations, and groups
- Over 1600 students have participated in our campus events
- Sample evidence of our impact: a Multicultural Resource Center event and a faculty presentation on the mathematics of voting were timed to coincide with our self-designated “Voter Awareness Week” in Oct 2023

Voter Support

- Over 580 voters registered using paper forms, many additional ones registered online from our information
- Legislation introduced in 2022 (HB 219) arose from our work advocating reinstating university ID as valid for voting

Voting Rates

- MSU was recognized by American Democracy Project for raising voting rates in 2020 and 2022, earning the Silver Seal Award for 2020 for raising rate from 50.4% to 62.6% (see graphics at right)

The Significance

Civic engagement is the cornerstone of our democracy; a well-informed and engaged young citizenry will allow for the civil discourse necessary to produce future coalition builders and leaders. Community and civic engagement assist in cultivating civic virtues, paving the way to students’ development as contributing members of society. While the practical aspects of voting are not covered in any Missouri school curricula, our initiative provides the impetus, information, non-partisan resources, and legislative connections to facilitate civic participation from the outset of our students’ education.

OUR MISSION

A photograph of a university building at dusk. The sky is filled with dramatic, colorful clouds in shades of blue, purple, and pink. A tall, modern tower with a glass facade is illuminated from within, standing prominently on the left side of the frame. The building's lights are on, and the overall atmosphere is serene and modern.

Civic Engagement and the Public Affairs Mission

Paws to the Polls formed to increase voter engagement and voting knowledge at Missouri State University. Our mission is to drive cultural change by turning MSU into a voting campus. Inspired by the university's mission in public affairs, our aim is to weave civic engagement into the fabric of the university via education and outreach.

Rationale for Paws to the Polls: Low College-Age Voting Rates

Barriers to Voting

- Logistical barriers
 - Election laws and policies make voting less feasible and equitable (e.g., strict voter ID laws, polling location inaccessibility, changes in voting laws, etc.)
- Educational barriers
 - Lack of institutional transmission of voting information
 - Little opportunity to discover personal relevance of voting
 - Bias and misinformation is an obstacle to factual learning
 - Not knowing they can register where they attend college
- Perceived barriers
 - Emotional and psychological factors (e.g., intimidation, unfamiliarity, anxiety, disengagement, confusion) that impede likelihood of voting

Overcoming the Barriers

- Logistical solutions
 - We advocate for college student voter access in Jefferson City
 - We distribute information to counter confusion and voting law changes
- Educational solutions
 - We provide practical information on the voting process
 - We facilitate understanding of how voting is relevant for all
 - We offer nonpartisan resources to avoid bias and misinformation, and clarify voting regulations
- Perceived barriers
 - We familiarize students with the voting process to ease anxiety
 - We provide information to promote engagement
 - We strive to enhance outreach to student members of underrepresented populations and to the Springfield community

HISTORY

Who: Formed in February 2020 by a group of 14 students from the social sciences and an Anthropology professor.

Why: Formed in response to low college student voting rates and the growing partisanship evident in the United States.

Through informal focus groups of approximately 60 students, the following information was obtained:

- Most admitted to obtaining their political information from social media and did not know how to access nonpartisan sources.
- Despite the civics education requirement, many knew little about the practical aspects of voting.
- Many expressed feelings of disengagement, unfamiliarity, intimidation, or anxiety related to the voting process.

EDUCATION

Our success is not measured in terms of the number of students we register; our main objective is to ensure that all MSU students have access to the resources and information they need to vote – and to vote knowledgeably.

Education is the centerpiece – we need to help students to understand how voting is relevant to their lives and that their engagement is needed for the future of our democracy. Civil discourse is only possible with access to factual, unbiased information, and we facilitate its distribution.

By demonstrating the process of registering to vote and voting, we create familiarity to diminish anxiety as an obstacle.

“It is intimidating for college students to feel confident in the voting process because it is not taught in normal curricula. Young people are magically expected to have this information, but the voting process can be complicated and initially very intimidating. That is why initiatives like Paws to the Polls are so important in helping to educate about the voting process.”

- Veronica Jacobs, '21

Voter Education Modules

Used by some instructors in the Freshman Foundations class, the five interactive modules foster critical thinking skills in relation to civic engagement, personalize and familiarize the voting process, illustrate avoidance of misinformation and bias, direct students to identify their legislators and learn their positions on issues. The emphasis is on self-exploration and discovery, engaging students to actively seek answers for themselves, key to knowledge retention and for elevating students' sense of self, responsibility, and agency as contributing citizens.

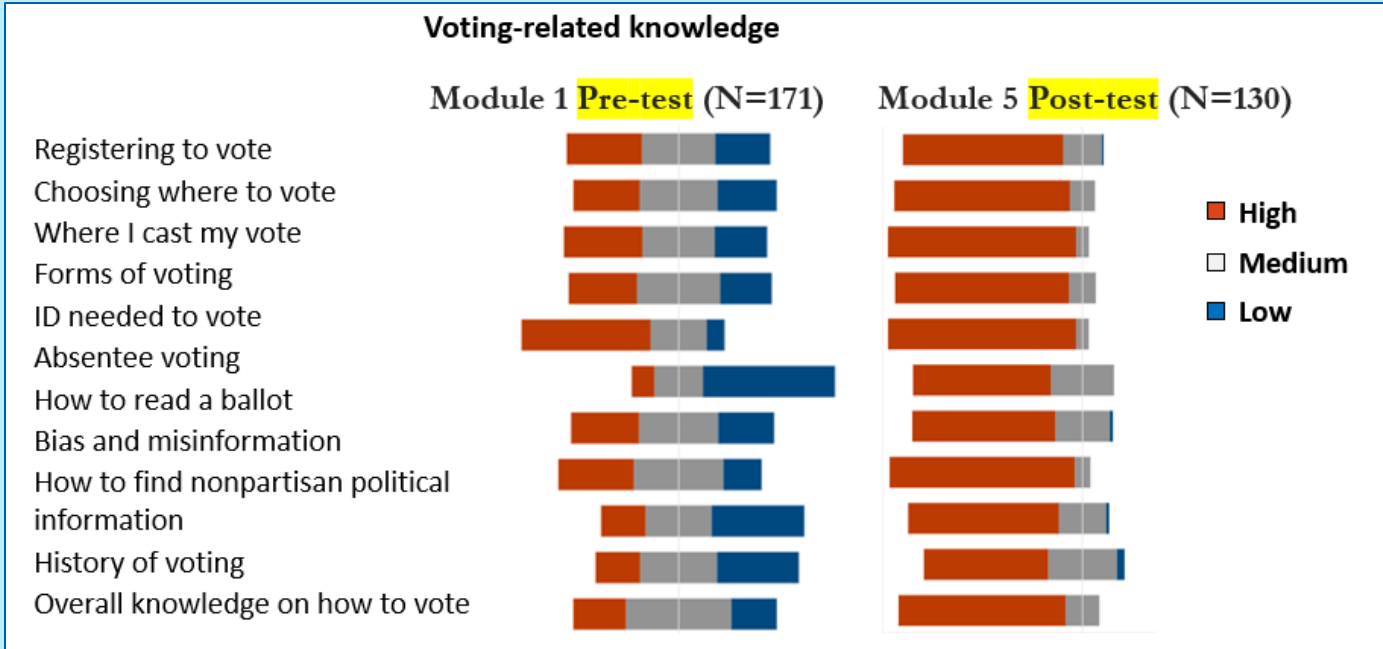

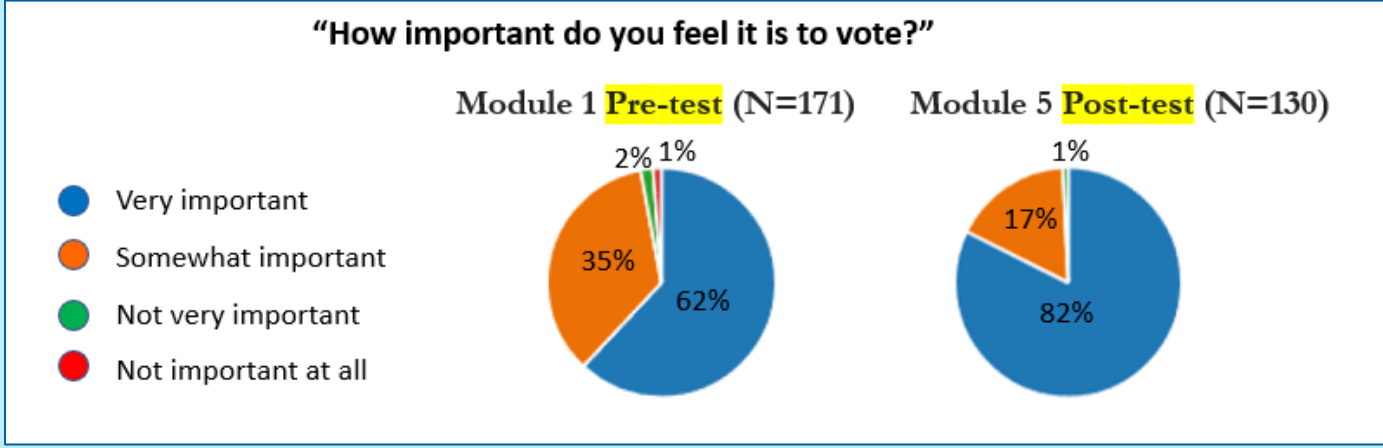

Since the fall of 2020, approximately 640 students have accessed this curriculum.

The pre- and post-tests embedded in the modules allow for robust quantitative assessment and demonstrate their effectiveness; a sample of these results are on the following page.

Voter Education Modules

- Sample results from pre- and post-tests of Voter Education Modules in GEP 101, Fall 2022
- 2 self-assessment questions (shown here)
- 14 objective questions
- Additional data available upon request
- Publication in preparation

Voter Information Booklet

Get Your Vote On,
Missouri State!

Voter Information and Resources
2023-24

- Includes all necessary information on registering to vote, absentee voting, in-person voting, election dates, benefits of voting at school vs. home, accessible voting, where to find voter support resources, and nonpartisan sources of political information. Updated at least once each year.
- We include our Linktree for ease of access to all U.S. County Clerks' offices, for online voter registration, and checking on one's voter registration.
- Has been distributed to over 9000 individuals and programs on campus since fall of 2020. Since 2022, delivered to all incoming first-year students via their GEP 101 (Freshman Foundations) or UHC 110 (Freshman Honors Seminar) classes.
- Locate our voter education booklet here from the homepage of our website.

"If every college student in the United States who was eligible to vote sought information from various sources, asked themselves hard questions about where their beliefs come from, had conversations with people who disagreed with them, and exercised their right to vote – the entire country would experience a significant change for the better."

- Jacqueline Batista-Martinez, '21

Video Production

Our two videos were produced in 2020. They are accessible on our website's homepage (scroll down) and comprise a component of the Voter Education Modules for Freshman Foundation classes.

- “Finding Your Voice” – Paws to the Polls students discuss the importance of voting, especially in local elections, and the role of civic engagement in MSU’s public affairs mission.
- “Casting Your Vote” – Filmed at the Greene County Election Center and facilitated by the County Clerk’s Office, using voting machines and paper ballots are demonstrated to familiarize new voters with the process.

“As a film student, it is important for me to participate in an initiative that strives to find and deliver unbiased sources of information.”

- Aby Dawson, '22

OUTREACH

- The purpose of our outreach efforts help enhance our visibility to make ourselves available to the campus community and the community at large, raising awareness not only about voting, but the fact that our political system goes in with or without our participation.
- We aim to forge new community connections and enhance existing ones and have connected the campus community to state and local elected officials through our actions.
- An engaged student is a successful student – we aim to help enact the public affairs mission through student engagement at all levels.
- In addition to activities highlighted in this report, our community outreach has included:
 - 11 SPS high school voter registration drives with League of Women Voters, resulting in 86 new registrations
 - At least 10 additional events with community partners
 - Our three social media contests, now conducted around each Election Day, have drawn almost 200 participants

“Peer-to-peer engagement is real, and Paws to the Polls understands that and uses that to motivate the Missouri State student body. While it takes some time to change the culture of a university, there are students that are passionate about this and truly want to see MSU as a voting campus.”

- Emily Fessler, BA '20, MPH '22

“Paws to the Polls is deeply centered on promoting inclusivity to help make becoming a voter an easier and more important process for young voters. Voting, especially as a student at Missouri State University with its public affairs mission, should be something to be proud of. But to make that happen for the majority of students, we must first help to change the culture around voting and make it our own.”

Legislative Interactions

Paws to the Polls is a nonpartisan, student-driven initiative at Missouri State University. Our goal is to increase civic engagement on campus and ensure that all citizens eligible to vote can do so without undue hardship

People who work or attend college in MO are part of our community. They should be able to register and vote where they live, work, and study.

11% (over 32,000,000) of our fellow U.S. Citizens lack state-issued ID.

Other secure forms of ID should be restored as valid for voting.

IDs issued by MO state employers, schools, or universities require birth certificate and/or social security number. Their security is equal to current voter IDs.

"As an out-of-state student, I study, work, and live here just like every other MSU student. My Colorado ID does not mean that my life is unaffected by local elections, yet it keeps my voice unheard. Out-of-state students are active participants in the community and, as citizens of the United States, should be allowed to exercise the right to vote where we live."
Isabella Rossi, Missouri State U

Strengthening our Democracy:
Supporting Secure Voting Access for All Eligible U.S. Citizens

Support for HB 219 & HB 975

House Bill 219 and HB 975 seek to restore use of a nonexpired student ID issued by a Missouri high school or accredited institution of higher education as acceptable for voter identification, and HB 219 to restore use of a Missouri state-issued employee identification card.

Our federal and state government accepts university ID as valid photo ID associated with the I-9 form for employment. These IDs have stringent requirements and are secure forms of photo identification. Voting access for our citizens strengthens our democracy.

Why doesn't everyone have a state-issued ID?

Life's priorities:

- 16% of MO citizens lack sufficient food and /or stable housing
- Their priority is to work or study
- Voting should be feasible for them with use of other forms of secure ID
- Non-drivers shouldn't have to prioritize state-issued ID (includes elderly, disabled, those lacking a car)

Difficult for some to attain:

- Many necessary documents
- Documents unavailable/ inaccessible
- Name discrepancies or changes on official records (errors, adoption, marriage...)
- Fees required for documents or court actions
- Lack transportation

Need residential address:

- Lower-income and college students move often
- Many people do not receive utility bills or bank statements with address
- Housing instability

Advocating for voting access, Feb 2023

- Express concern about HB 1878
- Support for inclusion of university and state employee ID
- Support for voting access for those on probation and parole
